

Meredith d'Ambrosio

Boston born Meredith d'Ambrosio, a renaissance woman of international critical acclaim, has successfully combined careers in the musical and visual arts. Her musical sojourn began in 1958 in Boston singing with small bands with pianist Roger Kellaway. Although she worked primarily as a singer-pianist, she is also known as a respected calligrapher, oil painter, watercolorist, creator of eggshell mosaics, composer, lyricist, teacher, and recording artist with the Sunnyside label. She branched out into New York City in 1981, and since that time has been touring extensively throughout North America and Europe. To date, Sunnyside Records has produced 17 albums of her music.
